1. Introduction:

You in Europe is fully committed to safeguarding the welfare of all children in its care. It recognises the responsibility to promote safe practice and to protect children from harm, abuse and exploitation. For the purposes of this policy and associated procedures a child is recognised as someone under the age of 18 years. Staff and volunteers will work together to embrace difference and diversity and respect the rights of children and young people.

We strongly believe that it is our responsibility to make sure our staff, volunteers, operations, and programmes do no harm to children, that is that they do not expose children to the risk of harm and abuse, and that any concerns the organization has about children's safety within the communities in which we work, are reported to the appropriate authorities. "Do no harm" is a principle that has been used in the humanitarian sector but can equally be applied to the development field. It refers to organisations' responsibility to minimise the harm they may be doing inadvertently as a result of our organisational activities. In this frame we recognize and declare that:

- All children, whatever their age, culture, disability, gender, language, racial origin, socio-economic status, religious belief and/or sexual identity have the right to protection from all forms of harm and abuse.
- The welfare of children is the primary concern
- Children have the right to express views on all matters which affect them, should they wish to do so.
- Everybody has a responsibility to support the protection of children.
- We have a duty of care to children with whom they work, are in contact with, or who are affected by their work and operations.
- We have a responsibility to help partners meet the minimum requirements on protection.
- All actions on child safeguarding are taken in the best interests of the child, which are paramount.
- Some children are additionally vulnerable because of the impact of previous experiences, their level of dependency, communication needs or other issues

You in Europe works with and for children throughout Europe, striving for a society that respects the rights of children. You in Europe believes that children's participation promotes children's participation and children's protection promotes children's participation. You in Europe aims to empower children by making them aware about their rights and creating a safe environment in which they can exercise their rights. You in Europe aims to implement children's participation based on the nine requirements for meaningful, safe and inclusive children's participation:

1. Participation is transparent and informative
2. Participation is voluntary
3. Participation is respectful
4. Participation is relevant
5. Participation is child-friendly
6. Participation is inclusive
7. Participation is supported by training
8. Participation is safe and sensitive to risk
9. Participation is accountable

2. Definitions of harm

Physical abuse: actual or potential physical harm perpetrated by another person, adult or child. it may involve hitting, shaking, poisoning, drowning and burning. Physical harm may also be caused when a parent or carer fabricates the symptoms of, or deliberately induces illness in a child.

Sexual abuse: forcing or enticing a child to take part in sexual activities that he or she does not fully understand and has little choice in consenting to. This may include, but is not limited to, rape, oral sex, penetration, or non-penetrative acts such as masturbation, kissing, rubbing and touching. It may also include involving children in looking at, or producing sexual images, watching sexual activities and encouraging children to behave in sexually inappropriate ways.

Child sexual exploitation: a form of sexual abuse that involves children being engaged in any sexual activity in exchange for money, gifts, food, accommodation, affection, status, or anything else that they or their family needs. It usually involves a child being manipulated or coerced, which may involve befriending children, gaining their trust, and subjecting them to drugs and alcohol. The abusive relationship between victim and perpetrator involves an imbalance of power where the victim's options are limited. It is a form of abuse that can be misunderstood by children and adults as consensual.

Child sexual exploitation manifests in different ways. It can involve an older perpetrator exercising financial, emotional or physical control over a young person. It can involve peers manipulating or forcing victims into sexual activity, sometimes within gangs and in gang-affected neighbourhoods. It may also involve opportunistic or organised networks of perpetrators who profit financially from trafficking young victims between different locations to engage in sexual activity with multiple men.

Neglect and negligent treatment: allowing for context, resources and circumstances, neglect and negligent treatment refers to a persistent failure to meet a child's basic physical and/or psychological needs, which is likely to result in serious impairment of a child's healthy physical, spiritual, moral and mental development. It includes the failure to properly supervise and protect children from harm and provide for nutrition, shelter and safe living/working conditions. It may also involve maternal neglect during pregnancy as a result of drug or alcohol misuse and the neglect and ill treatment of a disabled child.

Emotional abuse: persistent emotional maltreatment that impacts on a child's emotional development. Emotionally abusive acts include restriction of movement, degrading, humiliating, bullying (including cyber bullying), and threatening, scaring, discriminating, ridiculing or other non-physical forms of hostile or rejecting treatment.

Commercial exploitation: exploiting a child in work or other activities for the benefit of others and to the detriment of the child's physical or mental health, education, moral or social-emotional development. It includes, but is not limited to, child labour.

- partners are clear about the nature of the partnership relationships that they enter into
- there is a sound assessment of the partner's contact with, and impact on children during the partnership and what this means for child safeguarding agreements
- agreement is reached on how our organisation and the partner will support one another to achieve compliance and competence around child safeguarding, including the provision or exchange of resources
- there is clarity in partnership agreements on reporting and responding to child safeguarding concerns. For instance: what is the line of responsibility for reporting between partners; what are the implications for the partnership agreement of concerns being reported and confirmed
- terminating agreements if a concern has arisen should be avoided. Termination should be dependent on the partner's mishandling of the concern.

5. You in Europe's Child Protection Code of Conduct

You in Europe will respond to all reports of actual or alleged abuses based on its Child Protection Policy, irrespective of the nature of the referral, who the allegations are about or who the referrer is or where she/he is from.

6. Standard 3 Procedures

6.1 Implementation strategy: Reporting Procedures

All staff, volunteers and interns should be alert to signs that may suggest a child is in need of help (see annex 1).

Deciding whether to report can be a very difficult responsibility. The reporting procedure is made widely available to ensure that everyone is clear what steps to take regarding the safety of children and other witnesses.

All witnessed, suspected or alleged violations of You in Europe's Child Protection Policy will be immediately reported to the Child Protection Focal Person (CPF) – using the safeguarding reporting form (annex 2). The guiding principle here is that the safety of the child is always the most important consideration. These records will be stored securely with access limited to the CPF; a report must be made to the nominated Management Board member.

At meetings and activities where children are directly involved, children will be informed about You in Europe's safeguarding policy, code of conduct, the existence of the child protection focal person and complaints mechanism in a child-friendly manner.

The first stage is to decide whether the concerns are internal to the organisation or relate to an external situation.

When a child protection/safeguarding concern is brought to your attention – ACT

Act on your concerns. If in doubt, speak out.

Child-centred. The protection of children is the most important consideration.

Time counts. Ensure timely, effective, confidential and appropriate responses to child safeguarding issues.

If the concern is internal – regarding the behavior of staff, volunteers, interns, MB member or members, you have to consider whether you need to report to the local/national authorities. If not, the internal safeguarding procedure needs to be applied. If yes, you have to report to the designated authorities and follow-up on action taken by the authorities and decide on further response, record case and action taken.

If the concern is external - meaning that there is concern regarding abuse outside the organisation, you have to consider whether the concern is due to the way the organisation is delivering business and then decide whether this needs reporting to local or national authorities. After this the same procedure as for internal concerns is applied.

The CPF will act on the concerns or allegations in a confidential manner in accordance with the standardized process developed by You in Europe in the best interests of the child, irrespective of the nature of the referral, who the allegations are about or who the referrer is or where she/he is from. The CPF will take appropriate action to protect the child/children in question from further harm and during and following an incident or allegation. An assessment of the specific kind of support and assistance that is needed by the child(ren) affected by the incident will be immediately be offered. This may also involve arranging a medical assessment. The relevant contact details for child protection services, local services department, policy, emergency medial help and help lines will also be readily available and easily accessible (see annex 4 with key contacts information). The CPF will be responsible to contact the child's family (or guardian) and inform them of the incident and assistance provided. A safeguarding report (annex 2) must be compiled to document details of the incident. The “best interests of the child” must be considered throughout the process.

An assessment of the specific kind of support and assistance that is needed by the children affected by the incident will be offered.

6.2 Implementation strategy: The internal safeguarding procedure

You in Europe will immediately suspend any employee, volunteer, intern, board member, consultant, adviser who is alleged to have violated the Child Protection Policy, pending the outcome of the investigation. You in Europe reserves the right to take any disciplinary action against any of the above who have been proven guilty in an investigation, which may include reporting the incident to the police.

The investigation completed by the Secretary General will be submitted to the Nominated Management Board member who will come to a decision about action to be taken. Decisions from any investigation will be confirmed in writing to the individual concerned.

When investigating concerns or complaints, the process should be always be fair and, where complaints are upheld, the individual will have the right to appeal the decision. In such instances, the individual must write to the board of You in Europe within one week of receiving written confirmation of the complaint outcome, explaining the grounds for appeal. The board of You in Europe will consider the appeal, which will include re-examining the evidence and reports and may include talking directly to staff and others involved. You in Europe’s board will come to a final decision, which will be confirmed in writing. The decision from the appeals process is final. In cases where staff from You in Europe members or accompanying adults with children are alleged to have violated You in Europe’s Child Protection Policy in meetings and activities organised by You in Europe, this needs to be reported to the You in Europe CPF. The You in Europe CPF will investigate the complaint(s) or concerns confidentially and discreetly and report this to the board.

Where possible You in Europe’s CPF will discuss the concerns with the responsible person and/or his/her organisation in order to change the behavior or acts of the concerned person/organisation. In case the person or organisation is not able or willing to change its behavior according to the standards of You in Europe's Child Protection Policy, the board may decide to fire him/her. In cases of acts of a criminal nature committed by You in Europe member organisations in relation to activities organised by You in Europe this will be referred to the police.

7. Communication and Media Guidelines

The chapter of the Child Protection Policy sets out the principles You in Europe employs when communicating externally about our work and the work of our members. It contains general principles for ensuring children are kept safe at all times, as well as specific guidelines which must be followed by You in Europe staff as well as photographers, film crews and journalists visiting

In order to make sure that all children are protected in all situations it is important to obtain written consent of the parent/carer or legal guardian of children that clearly states if they agree that photos or statements of children can be publicly used or not. (Annex 3 includes a specific media consent form).

7.1. Principles

The rights and dignity of the child must be respected at all times and the best interests of the child maintained as the paramount concern of our communications. You in Europe will never use discriminatory or degrading language. This section is providing guidelines on the use of images, films and stories of children for media and communication purposes to ensure data protection and to protect children themselves. Abusers have sometimes targeted children whose pictures they have seen in media and communication material.

In You in Europe communications about children, the following principles will apply:

Dignity: The child's dignity must be preserved at all times. Languages must not degrade, victimize or shame the child. In images, children should always be dressed appropriately and should never be depicted in any poses that could be interpreted as sexually provocative.

Accuracy: The portrayal of children must not be manipulated or sensationalized in any way. Images and stories should provide a balanced depiction of the child’s life and circumstances, balancing negatives with empowering images or showing the progress that children are making. Communications should avoid making generalisations, which do not accurately reflect the nature of the situation and pictures should not be taken and used out of context.

Privacy: Any information that could be used to identify a child or put them at risk will not be used. You in Europe will ensure that:

- Only use first names of children: be careful not to reveal details about the place where they live, their school and other information that would lead to their place of residence. If needed for child safeguarding, the names of children will be changed.
- Information about a child/children’s life and photographs of children (including information stored on the computer) will be kept in secure files. Access to these should be limited to those that need to use them during the course of their work.
- The recorded images should focus on an activity and, where possible, feature groups of children rather than individuals.
- You in Europe is committed to represent a broad range of children – boys and girls, of various ages, abilities and ethnic groups in its publications, videos. You in Europe will ensure diversity of children to be presented in its communication material.

Complaints procedure: Any complaints or concerns about inappropriate or intrusive images should be reported and recorded like any other child protection concern (see chapter 6).

7.2 Informed Consent

Informed consent must always be sought before taking any photos, videos, or requesting personal information about children’s lives that may then be used in You in Europe materials. Informed consent means that children are told how You in Europe may use the information or image/film and that they are under no obligation to agree to its use. They should also be reassured that locations and other identifying information that might lead to the location of residence of children will be changed. They will need to be asked whether they give consent that their first name is shared with the information or image/film.

Consent must be obtained by completing and signing the media consent form. Consent is also required from the child's parent/carer or guardian, who must countersign the form or, where this is not possible, from the organisation working with them.

The media consent forms and other consent forms will be kept by You in Europe. Obtaining prior written consent, does not mean that there is no requirement to obtain verbal consent at the time of taking photographs/video/interviews.

7.3 Interviewing Children

Interviewing children requires skills and certain basic principles should be followed to ensure their dignity and their rights are respected.

Informed Consent: In relation to interviews, informed consent includes explaining what subjects are likely to be covered in the interview and clarifying the child's right to withdraw their consent at any point. The interviewer should review the child's understanding of consent at the start of the interview.

Provision of support: There should be someone else present during the interview, who the child is familiar with. Wherever possible, the child should be given a choice regarding who supports him/her during the interview.

Respecting the right to say No: Be clear before you start the interview that the child only has to talk if they are comfortable doing so, and they can stop and withdraw their consent at any point.

Gender: Consider the different needs of boys and girls and whether they would be more comfortable to talk to a man or a woman. Gender must be considered when deciding what topics may be discussed.

Respecting the right to information: If you are going to take notes, or record the interview in another way, you must explain this to the child and verbally ask their permission to do so.

7.4 Visits by Photographers, Films Crews, Journalists and Others

Special care must be taken when organizing visits for external photographers, filming crews, journalists or visitors within the scope of You in Europe projects, activities and publications:

- Journalists, photographers/film crews must be fully briefed about You in Europe's child protection policy before they meet the children, who will be interviewed, photographed or filmed. They sign their commitment to adhere to this policy.
- Make sure that photographers and filmmakers are not allowed to spend time with or have access to children without supervision. They have to be accompanied by You in Europe staff at all times.
- Children, parents and guardians must be informed about how the film, photograph or story will be used and consent for this obtained. This is distinct to the consent they have given for use of materials by You in Europe or the national/local organisation they are involved in.
- Copies of images, film and story should be sent to the (member) organisation to be passed on to the children.
- In order to protect the confidentiality and privacy of the children, You in Europe must be notified as to how the photographer or film maker intends to use the images or stories. You in Europe reserves the right to refuse use if it is felt that, in doing so we are not acting in accordance with our child protection policy and our media and communication principles.
- If an image or any material is to be used by another organisation, it must be credited to You in Europe/Photographer's Name © with an appropriate caption.

8. Standard 4 - Accountability: Monitoring and Evaluation of the Child Protection Policy

The aim of monitoring and evaluating the Child Protection Policy is to learn from practical case experiences, which will contribute to inform policy reviews and changes to the Child Protection Policy.

You in Europe will regularly monitor the implementation of its Child Protection Policy and procedures. Progress, performance and lessons learned are reported by the Child Protection Focal Person to the Management Board annually and included in You in Europe's annual reports. Monitoring and evaluation will be done by checking whether the standards from the Child Protection Policy are implemented and whether safeguards are working. This will be done by carrying out a survey among You in Europe staff, interns and volunteers on how the standards from the Child Protection Policy are being met, how effective they are and what needs improving.

Next to the overall monitoring and evaluation of the Child Protection Policy, reactive monitoring will take place, after incidences have occurred, which will contribute to a learning process for You in Europe and if necessary changes to the Child Protection Policy or reporting procedures. Every year an internal review of the policy will be carried out and its results will be approved by the Management Board. In addition, an external evaluator can review the policy and practices.

ANNEX 1: Recognising Signs of Abuse

Recognising indications of potential abuse is complex and there is no simple checklist, which allows easy recognition. There are potential warning signs that you can be alert to but they should be assessed with care. It should not be automatically assumed that abuse is occurring. Equally, however, it is important not to dismiss your concerns or ignore any signs of abuse – these should be discussed with the CPF as soon as possible to help decide the most appropriate course of action.
